

MetroAction Diversity Entrepreneur Forum held

The second annual MetroAction Diversity Entrepreneur Forum was held at the University of Scranton to help minority entrepreneurs start and grow successful businesses by connecting them with business development resources. The event highlighted success stories from local entrepreneurs with various cultural backgrounds and featured a panel discussion and presentations from Leticia Leizens, editor, Our House magazine; Brad Bason, North Central Digital Systems; and Jorge Coronel, founder, Hispanic Resources Network. For information on this program, visit www.MetroAction.org. Members of the planning committee are, from left: Diane Wyman, Prudential Preferred Properties; Ofelia Cardesa, ERA Realty; Jorge Coronel, Hispanic Resources Network; and Danlys Hernandez-Buck, Hemm-ler+Camayd Architects.

